KNIGHTS MAKE HEADWAY ON BUILDING

Delay in completing the basement for the Knights of Pythias building on Grant avenue near the corner of 24th street, delay was caused by water on the quicksand, but that drawback has been overcome and it is stated that masons will begin on the walls within the next two weeks. The Steel and Machine company of Minneapolis has been awarded the contract for the steel to be used in the structure. About 60 tons of steel will be used.

This building will furnish an ideal home for the Knights besides making room for business enterprises on the ground floor and in the basement. The upper part of the building will be used by the order, the lower floors to be used exclusively for business purposes. It will be a three-story building, 50 by 145 feet. Contracts for carpenter and brick work will be let in the course of a few days.

Mrs. Kate Wilde is building a residence on Woodland avenue, between Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets, that will cost about $1,500.

The Healy hotel remodeling is nearing a point where the manager, J. C. Lynch, is justified in opening the place. Opening day is tomorrow afternoon when visitors will be received and entertained.

The upper floors are ready for occupancy and the finishing work in the lobby and office is nearly done. The remaining work can be done after the hostelry is opened for business.

ANDERSON IS FROM ASYLUM

J. C. Anderson, arrested a few days ago under suspicion of familiarity with a little girl, is an escaped patient from the State Mental hospital and he will be returned to that institution.

It will be recalled that Anderson about two years ago attempted to hold up with a gun Officer Oren Hadlock. The officer knocked the revolver from the man's hand and arresting him.

Anderson was examined by a lunacy board and sent to the State Mental hospital. He escaped from the institution a little more than a year ago, since which time he has been at large, spending some of the time, according to his own story, in Canada.

He is a resident of Ogden and has relatives here. He confesses to having escaped from the Provo asylum. He stated this morning that he was given privileges as a trusty in doing kitchen work at the asylum and his escape was made easy.

County Attorney Jensen states that another examination will not be necessary as Anderson has never been released from the former commitment.

COLLEGE CREWS KEEP UP PRACTICE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 13.—Sixteen of the seventeen college crews now in training here braved the rough water this morning and had long easy yaws. Several cases of sore hands and of boils have also appeared, but they are not serious.

The Washington crew went out for a hard pull. The men are showing much improved form. Coach Conbeer continues the once-a-day program for the varsity.

Coch Vail of Wisconsin today was happy because his men had finished their examination.

Saturday and Monday will see time trials by nearly all the crews. The mornings the Badgers rowed three miles up the river and came down over the course.

The Pennsylvania crews went up the river and had a row down the course near the west shore.

The Cornell crews all went down the river this morning for a nine-mile row and practiced starts. Coach Eyrick of Syracuse sent his men to the starting point and had them row over the course at easy paces.

The Columbia crews had a leisurely eight-mile row up the river.

G. A. R. AT RENO

Reno, Nev., June 13.—A trip to Carson City and Virginia City was the diversion of the G. A. R. delegates today and several hundred veterans and their families left on a special train this morning. The state capitol and other state buildings were visited first after which the special carried the visitors to the Comstock where a trip through the mines was made. The delegates return to Reno tonight and tomorrow will be taken in automobiles to different points of interest in Reno. Sunday an excursion to Lake Tahoe will end the exercises in connection with the encampment.

LOCUSTS MOVING NORTH.

Lincoln, June 13.—The seventeen year locusts which made their appearance in the southern portion of the state early in the week, are moving northward and have settled in Johnson county in large swarms. They have collected in large numbers in the orchards and young trees. No damage has been reported as yet, but the insects keep up an incessant noise.
